

International Trade Club Breakfast Meeting

Informing, Involving and Innovating
International Trade since 1957

Thursday 11th July 2019 | 08:00am - 10:30am

The Mercure Dunkenhalgh Hotel, Blackburn Rd,
Clayton-le-Moors, Accrington, Lancashire BB5 5JP

We have found the International Trade Club to be an invaluable source of advice and information for all aspects of exports and trading overseas. The International Business Team are extremely helpful and always go out of their way to answer our questions. The networking events are also great to meet other local businesses who understand the challenges that can occur. The breakfasts are great too!

JOHN-JOE MCGONAGLE
Northern Industrial Ltd

Our prestigious breakfast meetings provide vital, informative presentations from guest speakers specifically designed for our Importers and Exporters to develop their knowledge of key issues and to share their experiences with fellow members.

Guest Speakers

It's nearly 3 years since the Brexit Referendum and against a backdrop of dashed hopes, half-truths, failed votes, promised deals and uncertainty businesses are expected to be continuing to trade, whatever the outcome. Today's breakfast speaker Liam Smyth, Director, Trade Facilitation at British Chamber of Commerce will try to extract the practical from the political landscape and to create some certainty for traders in an uncertain world.

Helen Cowley, Partner at Baldwins Group, will advise business on the best practises when setting up companies overseas, including new legislation to protect your business in the international market place.

Ben Blackburn, Managing Director at Blackburn Distribution, winners of the International Trade Club's Outstanding Exporter Achievement Award 2018, Ben will share his experiences and top business tips with the audience and how winning the award has helped his company.
